223277	Caroline Flint	Department for Energy and Climate Change	To ask the Secretary of State for Energy and Climate Change, pursuant to the Answer of 10 December 2014 to Question 214542, in what circumstances each supplier identified by his Department requests a refundable security deposit.	All supply companies may ask for a deposit of money as security for the future payment of energy charges if a customer's credit status is unsatisfactory, they have repeatedly failed to pay their energy bills or have broken an agreed payment arrangement, or a new customer is unable to provide proof of identity and/or details of previous place of residence. Deposits must not exceed a reasonable rate. Suppliers will not ask for a security deposit when a customer agrees to have a prepayment meter installed to repay a debt, or their personal circumstances means it would be unreasonable to require one. Supply companies will refund a security deposit in full when a customer has demonstrated their ability to pay their energy bills by paying each bill in full during an agreed period - often 12 months. The Department does not hold information on the approach of individual suppliers to security deposits.	1
391025	Mr Andrew Smith	Department for International Development	To ask the Secretary of State for International Development, how much her Department has allocated to the UN humanitarian appeal for Yemen; and what information her Department holds on how much aid has been allocated by other countries.	DFID has allocated £55 million for humanitarian response in Yemen which is providing emergency shelter, healthcare, water and food assistance, as well as supporting UN work to co-ordinate the humanitarian response. Of that, DFID has allocated almost £40 million towards the UN 2015 Humanitarian Appeal. Full details of all pledges to the UN Appeal can be found on the UN Office for the Coordination of Humanitarian Affairs (UNOCHA) Financial Tracking Service website (link)	1
